

Pharmacy Tech Apprenticeship

Earn while you learn!

Pharmacy Tech Apprenticeship

The Pharmacy Technician Apprenticeship Program is a paid, six-month program that prepares students to take the Certified Pharmacy Technician Test through the Pharmacy Technician Certification Board. Trainees will be hired by Centura Health while completing their Pharmacy Technician training through Front Range Community College.

What is a Pharmacy Tech?

Pharmacy Technicians are allied health professionals who assist pharmacists in promoting an organized and functional pharmacy service. They also prepare medications for dispensing and maintain records.

Steps to apply:

1. Join our talent community to receive information about upcoming cohorts.
2. Submit your application to the Pharmacy Tech Apprenticeship program.
3. Attend an in-person or virtual info session to learn more.
4. Formal interview with a hiring manager.
5. Apply to Front Range Community College.
6. Receive acceptance to the program.

Employment outlook:

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, employment opportunities for Pharmacy Techs are expected to increase 7% between 2018-2028.

Pharmacy Techs could earn from $22,740 up to $48,010 annually in the Denver metro area.

For more information, please visit:

<http://yourjob.me/pXMdue>

Centura Health is a non-nicotine employer and an EOE, including disability/vet.